GENEVA PEACE WEEK 2023

PROGRAMME

Building Trust, Building Peace: An Agenda for the Future

ABOUT THE GENEVA PEACE WEEK

Geneva Peace Week (GPW) is a leading annual forum in the international peacebuilding calendar through which organisations in Geneva and their international partners come together to share knowledge and practice on a diverse range of topics related to peace across contexts and disciplines.

GPW offers an opportunity to connect and highlight the work of peacebuilders and to expand the space for each and every person, actor and institution that has a role to play in building peace and resolving conflict. GPW recognizes that peacebuilding occurs in many different contexts and cuts across disciplines and sectors. In this sense, Geneva Peace Week breaks down professional silos in order to enable creative responses to violence, exclusion and insecurity. By synchronizing meetings and events on different topics related to the promotion of peace during one week, GPW maximizes synergies between organizations in Geneva and their international partners, focusing on the cross-cutting nature of peace.

CORE PARTNERS

GPW is a flagship initiative of the Geneva Peacebuilding Platform in collaboration with the following partners:

The Geneva Centre for Security Policy (GCSP) is an international training center dedicated to promoting peace, security and international cooperation through executive education, dialogue and policy analysis.

DCAF - Geneva Centre for Security Sector Governance is an intergovernmental foundation-based think tank that provides research and project support to states and international actors in improving security sector governance and reform.

The Quaker United Nations Office in Geneva represents Friend's concerns for global peace and justice to the international community.

Interpeace is an international organization for peacebuilding that supports locally led initiatives around the world.

The Centre on Conflict Development and Peacebuilding (CCDP) is the Geneva Graduate Institute's focal point for research in the areas of conflict analysis, peacebuilding and the complex relationship between security and development

The Principles for Peace is a global participatory initiative to re-frame the current narrow, exclusionary, and flawed way peace processes are understood and implemented. Principles for Peace is a collective effort to develop a new set of principles to better enable local, national and international actors to craft more inclusive approaches that result in long term sustainable peace.

The Federal Department of Foreign Affairs, is one of the seven Departments of the Swiss government federal administration of Switzerland, and corresponds in its range of tasks to the ministry of foreign affairs in other countries. The department is always headed by one of the members of the Swiss Federal Council.

The Geneva Graduate Institute is a higher education institution and a pioneer in the exploration of global issues. Through core missions – academic research, teaching, expertise and forum activities – they produce and share knowledge on international relations, development issues, global challenges and governance.

The United Nations Office at Geneva, is one of the four major offices of the United Nations where numerous different UN agencies have a joint presence. Through partnerships between governments, civil society, research, academia and other international actors, UN Geneva works hard to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals by the year 2030.
